Our Silver Jubilee.

FOR twenty-five years The Western Temporary Home, in its various stages of development, has been open to women and children in urgent need of immediate help. Undertaken with almost no resources, it has made constant progress, under circumstances in which the Managers can clearly discern the leading hand of Providence.

While the Managers cannot but feel gratified over the results of these years of labor, they realize that, under God, it has been due to the hearty co-operation of the many friends who have never failed to aid so good a cause, and it is to these they look for help in the future.

It has seemed proper at this time to make a brief statement of the career of the Home, in honor of those patrons who have passed to their great reward, for the satisfaction of those who are still laboring for its success, and to interest others who may not know of the opportunity here open to them for following the teachings of the Founder of Christianity.

ORIGIN.

In the winter of 1875, a number of ladies in West Philadelphia established a Dorcas Society. The prosecution of their work soon brought to light the urgent need of a temporary home for destitute women and children. To meet this want they rented No. 3947 Market street, and opened it February 15th, 1876, and in the following October, moved to No. 47 North Thirty-eighth street; but after a time, owing to a lack of funds, they were compelled to discontinue the work.

As an outcome of this effort the organization of

was effected October 22nd, 1877—just twenty-five years ago.

After about five years of successful labor in a rented house at No. 24 North Fortieth street, the Managers purchased the lot, 50 x 190 feet, located at No. 35 North Fortieth street, on which there were two small buildings. These they renovated and furnished as best they could, but, from the very first, it was apparent a larger and more substantial structure was needed.

In response to an earnest appeal made in 1888 for additional aid, a check of $10,000 was sent by our generous friend Dr. Edward H. Williams, $5,000 was received from the State of Pennsylvania, and with $7,000, made up by private subscription of various amounts, the handsome total of $22,000 was reached.

These funds were used to erect the present building, which was dedicated and opened, free of debt, April 21st, 1890. While this building is not among the largest in the city for charitable purposes, it is one of the best arranged and has been highly commended by all who have seen it. It was designed to carry out the four great aims of the Home, viz.:

First. The care of convalescents.

Second. The shelter of the temporarily homeless.

Third. A day nursery for children of poor working women.

Fourth. A sick diet kitchen to furnish comforts and necessaries for those who must have more nourishing food during illness than they can afford.

1st. For the care of convalescents and semi-invalids there are comfortable and inviting rooms, where those discharged from the hospitals may rest and gain strength. Many persons may not know that the hospitals are constantly crowded to their utmost capacity, and as soon as patients can possibly be removed it is necessary that they be discharged in order that the beds may be given to more serious cases. Often these poor women and children are just able to walk, and a return to their cold, unsanitary homes without proper food or comforts means simply a relapse of suffering, possibly ending in death. It is these who are welcomed at The Western Temporary Home and made comfortable until they are better established in health.

2nd. The temporarily homeless are given nice, clean beds and good food. They are sheltered while endeavoring to secure employment.

We are seldom without representatives of the class of women who have been turned out on the street owing to the lack of funds to pay their rent, yet anxious and able to work for themselves if only a helping hand is held out to them. Where there are children the mother leaves them at the Home until she is able to provide for them herself. The worthiness of this branch of the work is shown by the promptness with which the children are removed.

In cases where children are deprived by death of one or both parents, and whose condition calls for immediate relief, they are cared for here for a few weeks until permanent homes can be found for them. The little ones of those detained by sickness in hospitals or at home, are often placed here until the parent is again able to assume their care.

Those who have been in the slums and have seen the filth and squalor that abounds, can appreciate the white cribs, with the children—fresh from a bath—clothed in clean garments, and cannot fail to be struck with the difference between the loving kindness of sympathy and the slings and arrows of adverse fortune.

When young girls arrive in the city without money or friends, they can here find immediate shelter. Large numbers have been saved from suffering and degradation by finding here a refuge from the buffetings of unkind fate, and hundreds of them have been helped to good homes, to employment and to mental and moral improvement. A sober and respectable woman is never refused shelter however late the hour.

3rd. The day nursery forms an important branch of our work. The little tots are amused, while children over three years of age are placed in the charge of a nurse, competent to instruct them in elementary branches and singing, as well as give them valuable lessons in manners and morals.

4th. The sick diet kitchen, as its name implies, is to furnish good food for the sick in their own homes where it cannot be otherwise obtained. Many are they who have been assisted to health by its ministrations.

The Home has been provided for by the loving generosity of those whose hearts are in the work. There has rarely been an abundance of money on hand, and yet, like the widow's cruse of oil, there has never been a lack. When the need is greatest and the outlook darkest, there always comes, often most unexpectedly from hitherto unknown sources, the aid necessary for the present need. The keynote of this work can be found in our Saviour's words:

"For I was a hungered and ye gave Me meat;
I was thirsty and ye gave Me drink.
I was a stranger and ye took Me in.
Naked and ye clothed Me:
I was sick and ye visited Me
Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto Me."

It is in these words that the Managers see pointed out their duty toward suffering humanity. This duty they have endeavored to discharge to the best of their ability, and celebrate this Silver Jubilee with hearts full of thankfulness to all who have aided in a work so essential to the community, and invoke from the public that support without which it must fail. Much has been done in the last twenty-five years.

May the Golden Jubilee show a more glorious record in 1927.

YOUNG LADIES' AUXILIARY.

Eight years ago the Young Ladies' Auxiliary was formed. From time to time we have received from their ranks capable managers, and the members have rendered valuable assistance to the Home by giving entertainments, sewing, donations, contributions of money and in many ways lending a helping hand.

IN MEMORIAM.

It is with deep grief, that we the Managers of " The Western Temporary Home," record the death of MRS. JOHN M. WALTON, March 17th, 1902, whose twenty-three years of loving co-operation, and efficient service, have left foot-prints that can never be effaced.

During these years she has held, from time to time, the offices of President, Vice-President, Corresponding Secretary and Chairman of many important committees, all of which she filled with wonderful ability.

In the development of the Institution she was an important factor. In the construction of the present building, an earnest and enthusiastic worker.

She loved the " Home," and strove for its advancement.

Its reputation was dear to her heart. She possessed a wonderfully quick, broad and comprehensive grasp of its needs and management, and could be relied upon for help and sympathy, whether for an inmate or the general efficiency of the Institution.

Her open-handed liberality, executive ability and steadfast Christian character, made her one whom we all delighted to honor.

Resolved, That this minute be printed in the annual report, and a copy sent to Captain John M. Walton.

EIGHTH ANNUAL REPORT OF THE
YOUNG LADIES' AUXILIARY TO THE WESTERN TEMPORARY HOME
From November 1, 1901, to November 1, 1902.

The Young Ladies' Auxiliary is to be congratulated for its successful work in behalf of the Home for the year just ending. The reports of the year show a most satisfactory return for the faithful efforts of its members. Eight new names have been added to the roll of active membership and two to the honorary. It was with great regret that the Auxiliary accepted the resignation of Miss Travilla, who for many years had been its treasurer, but it was gratifying to know that she had not severed her interests in the Home - as she had been elected to the Board of Managers. Miss Johnson was then unanimously elected in November, and served in that office until May, when the Auxiliary reluctantly accepted her resignation. Following Miss Johnson, Miss Jones served as treasurer. There has been but one resignation from the roll of members.

Through the kindness of Mrs. Sparks, a Musicale was given at the Home in November by the Auxiliary. Its members wish to extend their sincere thanks to all those who so kindly assisted in making the Musicale a great success. From the entertainment $100 was realized.

At Christmas 36 dolls were bought and dressed—a larger number than was given the previous year. The usual Christmas tree and toys made the day a happy one for the children.

Among the improvements in the Home, given by the Auxiliary, was a picture railing for the inmates' sitting-room. Rugs were purchased for the Matron's room, and both her floor and the sitting-room floor were stained. Thirty dollars was appropriated toward the linoleum for the children's room. Ten dollars was also given to the Board for necessary china. A new electric bell was put in, for which was paid $5.50. Fifty dollars was spent for painting halls and stairway. The cheerfulness of all the rooms was increased by curtains, which were made and hung at the windows.

On account of the increased work of the Secretary, a change was made in Article IV. of the Constitution; providing that the duties of the Secretary be divided between two officers, Recording and Corresponding. It was put before the Board of Managers in January and authorized by them. A corresponding change was made in the By-Laws.

Material for fifteen dresses was cut out, made and returned, and also a dozen flannel skirts.

The Home was visited on Fridays throughout the year by the members.

In order to promote more interest in the Home, three new Standing Committees have been formed. It is hoped that by this means each individual member of the Auxiliary will be brought into closer touch with the practical work of the Home.

At the last meeting in the spring, a motion was carried that each member raise not less than five dollars before the Silver Anniversary, on October 22nd. The money so raised would be given by the Auxiliary towards the Endowment Fund. It is most gratifying to state that more than twenty-five girls have so far responded, and the sum total of this contribution will be not less than $140. This, added to $100 taken from the treasury, will make the gift to the Endowment Fund $240.

At the Silver Anniversary, on October 22d, the Auxiliary provided refreshments and decorations. To those members on whom the responsibility of this part of the entertainment fell many thanks are due, in helping to make the celebration a success.

To the friends of the Young Ladies' Auxiliary, who have so generously contributed to its needs in the past year, the Auxiliary is most grateful, and also the continued kindness of Mr. George Seuffert and Mr. Charles Shurtleff at the Musicale.

HARRIET LOUISE SEARLE,
Corresponding Secretary.
